Foreword

Brighter Futures - Nunavut - is a Health Canada program that works with the Inuit of Nunavut. It was developed by Inuit communities and government to improve the physical, mental and social well being of you, your family and your community. Brighter Futures recognizes the unique language and culture of Inuit people. Brighter Futures forms a part of your community health plan and targets health and wellness priorities based upon information in your community.

Brighter Futures makes a world of difference in your community and is committed to:

- set health and wellness priorities based on information about health in your community;
- show people how to live healthy lives and how to make healthy choices;
- build on existing health and wellness capacities and activities in your community;
- encourage long-term health and wellness planning in your community;
- develop programs that respect Inuit culture and tradition;
- offer services that give on-going care, promotion, prevention, treatment and support.

*This is a priority for the Minister and all
Inuit people.*

Introduction

This report is about the action that communities took to improve local health and wellness. Many community members took part, demonstrating the huge potential for partnerships to develop healthy communities. Hamlet councilors, Wellness coordinators, recreation officers, economic development officers, community health representatives, health centre staff, social welfare staff, schools, non-governmental organizations, Community Committees, Elders, parents and volunteers all helped out. This is the right combination of people and organizations to support community projects to improve the health of Nunavummiut.

The Brighter Futures projects in this report are examples of communities taking local action on health and wellness issues in their community. The report shows projects that:

- addressed health and wellness issues based upon priority-setting on information in communities;
- looked for input and participation from all citizens and community partners;
- linked with other programs and agencies in the community;
- were a part of a Community Strategy for health and community development;
- were evaluated by the community;
- had positive outcomes that the whole community recognized.

The Department of Health & Social Services continues to work with communities to make sure that health and wellness is forward-looking and to encourage community health plans and health strategies.

How To Use This Report

This report is full of great Brighter Futures project ideas from all across Nunavut. It is about the action that communities took to improve local health and wellness. Many different community members and groups joined in. This shows how important community and regional partnerships are to develop healthy communities. Men, Women, Youth, and Elders were active in all these Brighter Futures projects.

This report is full of great Brighter Futures experiences. You can use these experiences to develop your own Brighter Futures project in your own community. Remember, the best experiences for a successful Brighter Futures project are:

- Commitment from the mayor and hamlet council
- Contributions from a wide range of municipal departments
- Priority-setting based on information about health in your community
- Building on the skills and activities of members and groups in your community
- Active involvement of the whole community in planning and taking action

So, read through the Report and take note of all the great Brighter Futures project ideas that could work in your community. If you need more detail about the projects in this Report, contact the Community Wellness Program Administrator at the Department of Health & Social Services, or, telephone the community directly and talk to the local community wellness coordinator.

Let's all work together to make sure that Nunavut will have a Brighter Future.

Use these experiences to develop your own Brighter Futures projects.

Objective and Purpose

Brighter Futures is a key component to make sure the department's vision is realized;

“To support people living in safe and healthy communities assuming leadership and enjoying self-reliant and productive lives.”

Objectives

Brighter Futures should:

- make Inuit children, families and communities stronger
- be community based – addressing health and wellness priorities that are built on information in your community
- be community paced – encouraging active involvement of citizens in planning and action
- provide a broad approach to care, promotion and prevention
- bring together wellness activities and partners in your community

Community based and community paced.

Purpose

The main purpose of Brighter Futures is to stimulate action to improve health and wellness at the community level.

COMMUNITY Activity Reports

Baffin

Brighter
Futures

Arctic Bay

Community Allocation $97,207.95

1. Sound Enhancement - Gospel Church

Program Area Community Mental Health

Purpose

To give the community a chance to learn music and practice music.

Description

The project helped the church and its choir to sing to the glory of God. It gave people a chance to learn, study and read music and to use the sound system so everyone could enjoy the music of God.

2. Community Library

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To buy Inuktitut and English books for the community.

Description

Everyone in the community wanted to buy some books in Inuktitut and English. The whole community, including the residents of Nanisivik, used the books in the library. The project was successful.

3. Community Wellness Coordinator

Program Area Community Mental Health

Purpose

To hire a coordinator to manage project funds and do reports.

Description

The community hired a wellness coordinator to coordinate Brighter Futures funds and to make sure that the reports were done on time. As well, the wellness coordinator helped community members with their proposals and projects. The wellness coordinator also went to the wellness coordinator training workshop and learned a lot about other funding sources.

4. Respect the School

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To teach students how the school can help their future.

Description

The students learned how to respect the school system and how it could work for them. The project leader worked with parents and two community Elders. After the project, the students from grade 1 to grade 9 did much better. They studied better, their schoolwork improved, and the teachers said they listened better, too.

5. Traditional Hunting Skills

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To teach youth about traditional hunting and language skills.

Description

The hamlet wanted to preserve Inuit heritage and culture. The hamlet saw it as important for the younger generation to know and understand its past. Arctic Bay purchased local cultural hunting items. Traditional hunting skills need to be taught to all generations. The adults taught the youth these important Inuit skills.

6. Youth Winter Day Camp

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To offer youth a chance to join in healthy fun and games.

Description

The project ran activities for the kids of Arctic Bay. It gave them healthy and fun choices over the long, dark days of winter. Everyone enjoyed the activities. Some youth joined in for the first time - it was good to see.

7. Cultural Enhancement

Program Area Community Mental Health

Purpose

To celebrate local culture and tradition.

Description

The hamlet wanted to preserve Inuit heritage and culture. The hamlet saw it as very important for the younger generation to know and to understand their past. Arctic Bay bought local cultural items for display at the hamlet office. The community joined in to make traditional crafts that everyone, even visitors, can enjoy and learn from.

8. Community Youth Knowledge and Skills

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To teach the youth traditional archery skills.

Description

The project bought archery supplies and taught the youth how to hunt with them. Hunting with a bow and arrow was done before hunting with a rifle. The youth were taught respect for the bow and the proper way to take care of it. In addition, the teachers put on archery competitions for the students.

9. Dog Control

Program Area Injury Prevention

Purpose

To stop stray dogs from attacking community members.

Description

The dog officers bought special dog poles to catch stray dogs. The officers found it easier and safer to catch stray dogs that hide under buildings and houses. It was also easier and safer to handle them and put them in a cage. The community is now a cleaner, safer place for everyone.

10. Tanning Training & Tanning Centre

Program Area Community Mental Health

Purpose

To train community members to tan hides.

Description

Community members learned to tan hides. Because the community has a tanning centre, hides do not have to go to the south for tanning. The community now gets tanned hides faster and cheaper. Some tanners also sell the hides to help support their families.

11. Youth Incentive Program

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To train a youth and offer the youth the skills for a future job.

Description

A young person went to Iqaluit to study the pre-sea course (off-shore course). The course allowed the young person to apply for a job on a fishing vessel. This course is mandatory to get a job on a fishing vessel. The student worked hard and graduated.

Cape Dorset

Community Allocation $178,214.58

1. Breakfast Programs

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To offer a nutritious breakfast to schoolchildren in the community.

Description

The students of the two schools in Cape Dorset are more productive since the program started. Teachers noticed changed attitudes, longer attention spans, better discipline and higher school performance. An introduction to healthy foods was also a part of the program.

2. Staying Connected to Life on the Land

Program Area Community Mental Health

Purpose

To give field trips to young and old and teach them about the land.

Description

The program had the help of community Elders. There were trips for the youth and the adults to see the countryside and learn more about the land. The youth learned how to make nets, fox traps, build igloos and skin and carve an animal. The trips also helped to bring traditional food to community members with no transportation. The students thought the project was good for the people of Cape Dorset.

3. Youth/Elder Conference

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To let Elders teach youth the traditional ways.

Description

The program runs every year. Elders from all the communities in Nunavut and Nunavik help with this program. The youth follow the Elders to learn the old ways and help to deliver the program. This year the conference was in Iqaluit. They talked about traditional games, traditional words, traditional materials, and traditional ways of life among the Inuit. Story telling was a big part of the program. Elders taught and learned from other people's stories.

4. Male Survivors of Sexual Abuse

Program Area Community Mental Health

Purpose

To give healing sessions to male survivors of sexual abuse.

Description

The program was a healing session for the male survivors of sexual abuse in the community. The project required a lot of confidentiality among the participants and the community counselors. It worked when the men really cared for their families and when their family members were counseled with them. The counselors also taught the men to understand that abuse does not work at home or anywhere.

Decide how you can make things better in your community.

5. Arctic Survival & Wilderness First Aid

Program Area Injury Prevention

Purpose

To teach youth how to survive on the land.

Description

A recent loss in the community made the hamlet teach community youth how to survive on the land. The project taught youth how to prepare for travel on the land. It also taught them how to survive on the land if they were stranded.

6. Saipaaqivik Daycare Society

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To teach daycare children traditional songs and games.

Description

The program gave afternoon classes to one full-time and three part-time children. An Elder came to work with the children, to teach Inuktitut songs, and to teach Inuktitut games and activities. The parents of the special needs children really appreciated the program. It enriched the children's lives at the daycare and at home.

7. Community Wellness Coordinator

Program Area Community Mental Health

Purpose

To give wellness services to the community and report to Council regarding Brighter Futures projects.

Description

The wellness coordinator worked closely with community groups to help develop Brighter Futures proposals. Other activities included overseeing project activities, tracking costs and expenditures, and preparing program reports and evaluations. The wellness coordinator went to the wellness coordinator training workshop and brought back contacts for partnerships.

8. Boys Toonik Tyme Hockey Tournament

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To give the boys a chance to meet with other community boys, socialize and do healthy activities.

Description

The two community coaches believed the tournament was a major success. The boys met with other young adults from different communities within a social, cultural, and sporting environment. The boys represented their community and this improved their self-esteem. They got special recognition at a medal presentation ceremony at Peter Pitseolak School.

9. Community Wellness Coordinator Training Workshop

Program Area Community Mental Health

Purpose

To give training and development to the wellness coordinator.

Description

The wellness coordinator learned about all the different things a wellness coordinator can do for the community. A network developed with the other wellness coordinators from the other communities in Baffin. The wellness coordinators got a contact list with important phone numbers. The workshop encouraged strong working partnerships.

10. Peter Pitseolak School Girls Hockey

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To get a girls hockey team started and teach them the importance of healthy living.

Description

The girl's hockey team just started. They all learned the importance of exercise, what it means to be part of a team and good sportsmanship. The team got some new equipment and jerseys to make them feel part of a club – something special. The team plans to go to other communities to play other girl hockey teams.

11. Cape Dorset Girls Figure Skating Association

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To teach young girls in the community how to figure skate.

Description

The project started late in the year. The girls did some figure skating and will do some more in the future. This was a new experience for Dorset girls. The girls felt they had to be tough in sports like the Dorset boys. The girls relaxed and did their own thing in their home community.

Clyde River

Community Allocation $113,409.28

1. Healing Process

Program Area Community Mental Health

Purpose

To return people to their original homeland so they can heal.

Description

The project ran all summer. The project leader took the community members back to their original homeland. The community members started to heal and closed that chapter of their life. A professional counseled community members with a greater healing need.

2. Children's Breakfast Program

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To make sure needy children have a nutritious breakfast every morning before school.

Description

The program fed students every morning. The menu was simple yet nutritious and no one was turned away. The children attended classes without the tummy grumbles to distract them from their studies. The teachers noticed that the students paid better attention and discipline problems were fewer.

3. Resource Technician

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To give answers to the many questions that community members have on education, training and information sharing.

Description

The Resource Technician answered questions about work and work related problems. Community members could go to this person with any question and this person would look for the answer. The Resource Technician also answered student's questions about school and professional training and shared all the information with the community.

4. Winter Survival Techniques

Program Area Injury Prevention

Purpose

To offer winter survival techniques to youth.

Description

The project allowed youth to prepare for safe travel on the land. It taught them how to pack and what tools and emergency equipment to bring. It taught them how to make a camp and to stay warm when the weather was bad. The winter survival techniques program used the traditional skills of a hunter and an Elder.

Share ideas with family, friends and others in your community.

5. Food Provider

Program Area Child Development

Purpose

To hire a cook to make healthy, nutritious snacks for needy students.

Description

The hamlet hired a skilled food provider to prepare nutritious meals to needy students. The food provider also went hunting for traditional foods to cook for the students.

6. Community Family Counselor

Program Area Community Mental Health

Purpose

To give counseling to people with special needs.

Description

The community family counselor - one of the social workers in Clyde River - spoke regularly to clients and their family members who had problems. The Counselor met with people who wanted to talk about suicide, depression, family violence and other important issues in their family.

7. Youth Program

Program Area Solvent Abuse

Purpose

To teach youth to make healthy choices about substance abuse.

Description

The project was directed at the youth of the community. The project leader worked with all the community members – youth, adults and Elders. The project taught youth to make choices for a better, healthier life, a life without substance abuse.

8. Caribou Clothing Project

Program Area Community Mental Health

Purpose

To teach students to hunt and skin caribou.

Description

After the project leader felt the ice was safe to take out the snow machines, the leader and students went to hunt caribou. The leader showed the students how to track and hunt caribou. He taught them how to skin and carve the caribou, too. The students also learned how to cure the skin, to stretch it, and to prepare it for sewing.

9. Alcohol Worker

Program Area Solvent Abuse

Purpose

To teach community members about the danger of alcohol abuse.

Description

The alcohol worker collected information on the effects of alcohol and delivered it to community members. The worker also worked with Pauktuutit - the Inuit Women's Association of Canada – and the community health centre to research and present material about alcohol abuse. The Nunavut Government also partnered with the worker.

Purpose

To offer program evaluation training to community wellness coordinators in Nunavut.

Description

The training workshop took place from October 25-29, 1999. It was a joint training program done by Nunavut and Northwest Territories. Sixteen wellness coordinators from Nunavut went to Yellowknife. Most of the coordinators had less than 12 months work experience with Brighter Futures. They learned how to evaluate Brighter Futures projects to make outcomes matter. The workshop taught the coordinators what their work responsibilities were.

Everyone at the workshop agreed that meeting other wellness coordinators throughout Nunavut was very helpful. It allowed them to share ideas and stories.

6. The Katimavigjuaq Conference

Allocation $25,000.00

Program Area Program Management

Purpose

To join with federal and local partners to run an 'inter-sectoral' network building and community planning workshop.

Description

It was a pilot-project in Kivalliq. The 6-day Conference had two parts and ran March 25-30, 2000. Part-one was the network-building workshop and lasted three days. People learned to recognize the skills their community had and the skills their community needed to fix health and wellness problems. They also learned ways to make communities work together better to solve health and wellness problems.

Part-two was community planning. It lasted three days, too. The conference taught an introduction to community-based planning. Students learned to make action plans to solve health and wellness problems in their community.

Finally, the conference leaders made a resource directory. The directory included a list of resources that communities could use to solve health and wellness problems.
